FDNY MSOC EMS COMPETITION

“Code of Conduct” for the MSOC EMS Competition 2020

This competition is to share the experiences of emergency medical personnel from around the country. This is designed to be a friendly competition we can all learn from, professional conduct will be expected at times.

All participants will adhere to the following:

1. You will be personally responsible for the behavior of members from your service.

If any member of a competing team is asked to leave a public area for aggressive or disorderly behavior by the staff of the convention center, Competition security or EMS Competition administrative personnel, then that entire team will be asked to leave. The team will be disqualified from the competition and all competition awards, prizes and CMEs will be revoked. You will also forfeit all registration fees for the MSOC EMS Competition.

2. You will be personally responsible for the behavior of any guest you bring to the MSOC EMS Competition.

3. You will be personally responsible for your individual behavior within socially acceptable parameters.

There will be no acts of vandalism or assault tolerated. No one individual or group has the right to endanger others. The personnel below have read and understand this “Code of Conduct” and are fully prepared to abide by its intent and the decisions of Competition administrative staff, security personnel, and facility staff.
